

Dr. Ching-Yi Tien received her Ph.D. degree in Applied Linguistics and TESOL from the University of Leicester, UK. She is currently Director of Foreign Language Center. Assistant Professor, Department of Applied English, I-Shou University, Kaohsiung, Taiwan. Over the past eighteen years, she has worked with different student age groups, ranging from three years old up to 60 plus. She was actively engaged in teacher training programs, large-scale projects, and presented at international conferences. Her research interests include Blended Learning and teaching methodology, code-switching, language and culture, classroom observation, and English for specific purposes(ESP). She is the author of several EFL textbooks (e.g., Office Talk: Workplace English Vocabulary, English for Health and Medical Care, KET for School Preparation, MICE English: Meetings, Incentive Travel, Conventions, and Exhibitions) and was a contributor to Barnard & Torres-Guzman (eds., 2009), Creating classroom communities of learning: International case studies and perspectives, and Barnard & McLellan (eds., 2013), Codeswitching in university English-medium classes: Asian perspectives, both published by Multilingual Matters. Observation leading to reflection, Barnard & Ryan (eds., 2017), Reflective Practice: Voices from the Field, published by Routledge.